A recording of the webinar will be shared on various platforms

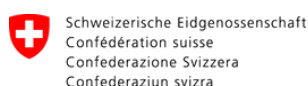

Developing the agency of children and youth to address climate change in and through CSTL schools using the Child and Youth Agency Framework

Click here for the Information Note

Key webinar objectives:

- Introduce the CSTL community to the SADC Child and Youth Agency Framework to address persistent development challenges, including climate change, HIV and AIDS, early and unintended pregnancies and gender inequality.
- Provide information on the current pilot process in four Member States to operationalise the Framework.
- Provide information on an opportunity for the CSTL community to Act Now! to provide education for the development of learners' agency to address climate change: Ongoing participatory UN process for the co-development, with children, of a General Comment on State parties' responsibilities to realise children's rights and address climate change.
- Share information on available resources and support, and encourage all Member States to use the Framework to enrich their education systems.

The SADC Child and Youth Agency Framework will be presented to the SADC Ministers of Education on 17 June 2022 for endorsement as an addendum to the CSTL Policy Framework.
